Real Talk from Karmen:

"Throughout my life, I have changed not just careers, I shifted into the role for the current purpose in that moment of time.

We tend to identify with our job instead of keeping our identity and shifting into the role that our purpose at that time calls for.

Do not be afraid to shift your roles throughout your life because as you shift, so does your purpose.

If this is you right now, and you're curious as to what your next pivot in your career looks like, no matter what the reason is, I can help you. Because I've been through it all.

The part time job.

The bridge job.

Building a business on the side.

As you walk through your job transition, remember that YOU are NOT your job. Your job is the vehicle for your purpose.

Remember, your purpose IS your impact!

Let's make it a magical one."
